

BUDAPEST STOCK EXCHANGE LTD.

SPREAD PRODUCT LIST

Designation of the Product:	BUX spread
Size of the Product	BUX *10 Ft
Price setting:	The difference between the short BUX futures value of the spread product and the long BUX futures value of the spread product
Price Interval:	10 index points.
Value of the price interval:	HUF 100
Expiration months used as a basis for the difference:	a) the next June and December; b) from among the months of the March, June, September, December cycle, the two shortest c) the short December and the long December
Opening Day:	On the first common Stock Exchange Day of the two Stock Exchange Products underlying the Spread Product, when the Spread Product consisting of the two Stock Exchange Products meets one of the conditions set in the item "Expiration months used as a basis for the difference" these will be automatically opened.
Closing Day:	The Closing Day of any of the two products underlying products of the spread product.
Transaction Unit:	1 contract
First Trading Day:	From among the "Expiration months used as a basis for the difference", for the spread between the shorter December and the longer December: October 25, 2000. From among the "Expiration months used as a basis for the difference" other than the above-listed: December 19, 2000.